We can communicate with other people in many different ways. We can talk and write , and we can send messages with our hands and faces. There are also the phone , the fax , and e-mail. Television , film , painting , and photography can also communicate ideas.

Animals have ways of exchanging information , too. Bees dance and tell other bees where to find food. Elephants make sounds that humans can't hear . Whales sing songs. Monkeys use their faces to show anger and love. But this is nothing compared to what people can do. We have language , about 6000 languages , in fact. We can write poetry, tell jokes , make promises , explain , persuade , tell the truth, or tell lies. And we have a sense of past and future , not just present.

Communication technologies were very important in the development of all the great ancient societies. Around 2900 B.C , paper and hieroglyphics transformed Egyptian life. The ancient Greeks loved the spoken word. They were very good at public speaking , drama , and philosophy . The Romans developed a unique system of government that depended on the Roman alphabet. In the 14th century , the printing press helped develop new ways of thinking across Europe.

Radio film , and television have had , huge influence on society in the last hundred years. And now we have the internet which is infinite . But what is this doing to us?
