N Read the following passage and answer the questions as required. ( 2.5 )

From the moment they're born, babies have a very effective way of telling you what they're thinking and feeling. It's called crying.

Crying is how babies let you know they want or need something – more cuddles please, no more cuddles please, hungry, not hungry enough, too tired, not tired enough, feeling too cold, feeling too warm. And sometimes babies cry for no clear reason.

Crying is the only way your new baby knows how to communicate her needs to you. Your baby doesn't cry to make you depressed – there's no such thing as an impolite newborn. You can't spoil your baby by responding when she cries.

Answer the following question.

39. Do parents always know why their babies cry?

Choose the correct choice.

40. Which of the following can be the main idea of this passage?

- |   |   |
