Camping is an outdoor activity that people all over the world enjoy. It is an excellent way to see the countryside. Many people learn to camp with an organization like the Scouts. Others may get their first experience on a camping holiday in the mountains or beside the sea. In many countries, there are special camp sites for tourists, so you do not always have to carry a tent with you. The camp site may give you one. It is fun to learn the basic skills of camping: how to put up a tent, how to make a fire for cooking, how to keep your camp clean, and how to pack up a camp. Camping organizations can give much help and advice. Before making a camp, you must always make sure that the owner of the land allows you to camp on his land. Next, it is important to choose the right spot-not in soft places and under trees because they may fall down, and if it rains, the water will make your tent wet. Above all, do not forget to take fresh drinking water with you.
