3	Reading: Read Mrs. Sohrabi’s experience in learning English and answer the following questions. Whenever I remember the early days of my English language learning, I feel how important to me it was to speak English no matter how difficult it might be. To be honest, at the beginning of learning English, I had difficulty making English sentences correctly. Besides, I couldn’t pronounce or understand English words well. Therefore, I joined in an English institute to improve both my speaking and listening comprehension. Also, I spent two hours a day listening to English songs, watching movies with English subtitles and reading short stories. After a while, my English began improving greatly and I really found it easy to communicate with people who could speak English very well. Finally, I	8
