Jimmy started painting when he was three years old, and when he was five he was already good at it. He painted many beautiful and interesting pictures, and people paid a lot of money for them. They said, "This boy is going to be famous when he is a little older. Then we are going to sell these pictures for a lot of money." Jimmy's pictures were different from other people's because he never painted on all of the paper. He painted on half of it and the other half was always empty. "That's very clever," everybody said. "Nobody does that!"

One day a man bought one of Jimmy's paintings and then said to him, "Please tell me this, Jimmy. Why do you paint on the bottom half of your picture, but not on the top half?" "Because I'm small," Jimmy said, "and my brushes don't reach very high."
